Industry Analysis

Misinformation (incorrect info) and Disinformation (purposely misleading info) are an ever-present threat in today's social-media-connected environment. Even as organizations increase their awareness to cybersecurity threats, they have been slower to deploy tools to discover and defeat disinformation.

Individuals may be at even greater risk. Audience targeting and media manipulation have created hazards for consumers of information everywhere.

Today it's imperative that individuals and organizations are prepared to understand, combat and defeat disinformation. The above resources will help arm you and your teams against the ravages of propaganda, disinformation and outright lies.
